Abstract (en)
The packing unit (1) has a flat bottom section (2), a cover section and a formed out recess (3) which serves to accommodate an article to be packed. The bottom section consists of metal and at least on one side has an advertising surface carrying printed advertising information (8). The bottom section has fastening means for fastening to a wall or suchlike and may be in the form of holes (9). The bottom section with the cover section forms a resealable connection.
