Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2005019589A1] The invention relates to a sealing profiled element for a door seal, said element comprising a fixing profiled part for permanently fixing to a first door component e.g. a door leaf, and an adhesive profiled part provided with a magnetic chamber section for temporarily fixing to a second door component, e.g. a door frame, in a detachable manner. The invention also relates to a sealing frame arrangement comprising one such sealing profiled element.
