Abstract (en)
The cover has two rectangular fabric flaps (1, 2) attached to each other at their ends by a fixation unit. The sides are partially overlapped on an overlapping surface (3) having closing units e.g. buttons. One flap forming an upper side of the cover has a wide mouth (a) at its center or in a zone closer to the center, for permitting introduction and positioning of a duvet in the cover. The mouth is formed by spacing the flaps. An independent claim is also included for a method for making a cover for a duvet.
