Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2005023974A1] The invention relates to combination products consisting of at least one washing or cleaning agent shaped body and of at least one liquid-filled hollow body, which is an injection molded and/or blow-molded and/or deep-drawn part, and which is, at least proportionately, comprised of one or more water-soluble or water-dispersible polymers. The combination product is characterized in that the liquid-filled hollow body/ bodies is/are joined to the washing or cleaning agent shaped body and makes it possible to prepare combined solid/liquid products with a minimized packaging effort. Combination products of this type are characterized by having an improved stability during production, storage and transport.
