Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1661815A1] Plastic containers with a base (2) and side walls (3), in which the sides (3) comprise a double- or multi-layer sandwich structure with individual layers (6, 7) having a thickness such that the layer is dimensionally stable under production conditions during and after binding the layers, the required mechanical stability of the wall being provided by the sandwich structure. An independent claim is also included for a method for the production of such containers by injection moulding the container with a first layer (7) of side wall, making a second layer (6) independently of the first and then binding the two layers together.
