Abstract (en)

[origin: FR2877266A1] The protector has small pockets (6, 7), each closed on three edges, and articulated by a bend line, parallel to a band (3), on a cover part (1) and/or a back part (2). The pockets are opened on the fourth edge. The pockets can be folded inwards by a user between pages of a copy book. The parts (1, 2) respectively have flaps (4, 5) whose widths are equal to 35 percent of the width of the cover page of the book. An independent claim is also included for use of a copy book protector as a desk-pad, independent of any copy book.
