Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1667184A1] Combined pressure and slide switch has a switching element which is arranged within an air tight housing (3) with an operating knob. The operating knob is marked by a button holding element in such a way the line section (5a,5b) of the button holder element is passed through a recess (6a,6b) and is locked by a twist relative to the air tight housing.
