Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1669321A1] The machine has a container support and a drivable sealing tool for bringing a seal by screwing, where the tool rotates by a drive. Fixing units (16) are provided at the support and abut with spring force produced by a compression spring against the underside of flanges of a bottle supported at a bottle carrier section during sealing of the bottle. The units have a fastening section by which the units are held at the support.
