Abstract (en)

The supplementary module is an integral component of the module foundation (38) and movable in or against the machine longitudinal direction on the machine foundation by connecting arrangements. The paper is arranged to the longitudinal direction of the modules. Foundation rails are arranged on the machine foundation. The machine modules exhibit a storage base (48) arranged to the fundament rails. INDEPENDENT CLAIMS are included for: (1) machine modules; (2) module foundation; (3) plant for paper production; and (4) paper production using the above machine.
