Abstract (en)
The installation has a shower cubicle (2) with a showering cup (3) with a water drain as well as a canopy (10) attached to a shower head (30) and or of other house or shower-technical elements such as lights. The canopy (10) is held by an angular rack (20). The angular rack (20) is connected to a building wall. The shower head (30) and or the lights are let in into the canopy (10). The canopy (10) is designed as stone or artificial stone slab and its size approximately corresponds to the size of the base to the showering mechanism (1). The angular rack (20) is provided as an L or U-shape. The angular rack (20) is parallel to two running angle carriers (21).
