Abstract (en)
The lamp has a halogen integral lamp, which is inserted into a base (6) and is surrounded by an outer bulb. The base and the integral lamp are connected via a connecting unit (4). The connecting unit has a mounting clip that is made from an electrically conductive material. The integral lamp is electrically and mechanically connected to the base. The mounting clip is surrounded jointly by the base and the outer bulb. An independent claim is also included for a method for producing a lamp with an integral lamp.
