Abstract (en)

The street surface cleaning machine has at least one suction opening, with a suction channel leading into the collection container. The assembly has at least one suction turbine (13), and a downstream outflow channel (19) in a diffuser (15). The diffuser has outflow openings (18) at the top leading into an outflow chamber over the collection container and covering it. The collection container is divided by a bulkhead (10) into a collection section (12) and a section (11) for the suction system.
