Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1686204A1] The carding machine, comprising a series of cylinders (20 27) inside a chamber (E) formed by a cover (1), has at least one section (10, 11, 12, 13) of the cover able to move in a direction (MD) lying perpendicular to the cylinders' axes. The cover can be made, for example, in two sections that move in opposite directions and can be moved independently of one another on guide rails.
