Abstract (en)

The fastener (13) has a part (20) and a core (22) which are integrated to a case (10) of a watch and a rubber strand (21) of a bracelet (12), respectively, where the part has a cutting (20b) perpendicular to a reference surface. The core has a rigid elastic pad with a deformable elastic tab (22b) deforming along a direction perpendicular to the surface and arranged in a manner to engage in a notch of the cutting. An independent claim is also included for a watch having a bracelet, a watch case and a fastener.
