Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1690816A1] u Each channel (18) has an opened chamber-like channel area (20) in which the filler products (12) are filled. The chamber-like channel area is sealed from the outside. The filler products come out of the chamber-like channel area under pressure on to the channel with a width of one piece. There may be a supply vessel (10, 10.7) from which the filler products come to the chamber-like channel area. and may emanate from the supply vessel either continuously or phased.
