Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1693118A2] The support has a retaining profile (5) protruding at the top side for fastening plastic screen units to front sides in a form-fit manner, where the screen unit are lying against one another. A metal profile (1) of larger height than the width of the support is arranged centrally below or parallel to path extending from the retaining profile. The metal profile is enclosed by the plastic of the protruding retaining profile.
