Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1696192A1] Bag for making ice cubes comprises two layers of plastic film joined together with seams (2, 3, 4) along three sides, where the two layers are folded down in the vicinity of a filling channel (6) on the fourth side to form a valve that closes when the bag is full and the bag is divided into interconnecting sections (8) by internal seams (7). The two layers can be separated from each other along at least some of the seams so that ice cubes can be removed.
