Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1700798A1] The package has a lamellar blister package arranged in a cuboid-shaped folding box from cardboard and pulled from the box at one of short narrow sides of the folding box. The folding box is recloseably designed, where the folding box and the blister package have strengthening flaps (112, 126), which are arranged in such a manner that complete removal of the blister package from the folding box is prevented.
