Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1705121A2] The present invention provides a method for packaging aubergines and other vulnerable vegetables and/or fruit, comprising the following steps of: -placing the aubergines in transport means; -measuring the weight and/or visual characteristics of each aubergine in the transport means; -allocating the products to a number of offloading stations and sorting the aubergines into a predetermined number of classes; - offloading the aubergines from the transport means at the relevant offloading station onto a packaging unit positioned at the offloading station; -filling the packaging unit up to a predetermined total weight; and -re-packing the aubergines from the packaging unit to the final package at a removal location coupled to the offloading station.
