Abstract (en)

A travel bag that is customizable to a user needs that allows a user to display the contents of a discrete organizer (108) located in the bag in a simple manner. In particular, the bag has a flap (104) and an extendable handle (102) to which the flap may be coupled. The discreet organizer is fastened to an interior surface of the flap so that it is displayed when the flap is secured to the extended handle. The flap may be coupled to the extended handle by a fastener (106) located on the flap or by a fastener (224) located on the discrete organizer.
