Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1719683A1] Interior fitting has a floor plate (1), decoupled from the bodywork shell and a lateral multi-purpose profile (2), connected at the outer side of the interior fitting on both the sides. The multi-purpose profile is arranged decoupled from the bodywork shell. A connection line (3,4) is arranged for the demounting and mounting components in such a manner that a statically supporting floor board is formed.
