Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1721679A1] The device has an applicator (20) supplied with a cosmetic product from a tubular container (10) via a passage. The applicator is carried by a movable unit (30) moving from a position in which the applicator is outside a housing (57), to a position in which the applicator is contained in the housing. The unit (30) has a wall (32) to close the housing in the latter position. The unit (30) prevents, when it is in the latter position, the actuation of a pump of the container, and/or closes the passage.
