Abstract (en)
A shoe nail set includes a connecting part (11) and a nail part (12). The connecting part has a connecting post (111) extending outward from the center thereof and a plurality of screw threads (112) at the periphery thereof with equal angular distant spacing apart each other and a plurality of wedges (113) and arc blocks (114) being disposed alternately surrounding the post. The nail part provides an annular edge surrounding the wedges and the arc blocks and a plurality of nail legs extends downward and outward. The connecting part engages with a nail base (2) disposed on a shoe sole. This kind of cleat is particularly suitable for playing golf.
