Abstract (en)
The wall panel comprises a base plate (12) with top side (14), and a decor panel (16) which at least partially covers the top side and is connected to the base plate. The decor panel has at least in part a shaped plaster mass (18). The decor panel can have several grooves (22) formed by the mass and preferably aligned in the same direction and arranged regularly or irregularly. Independent claim describes method for making a wall panel by preparing a base plate, applying the decor panel to the base plate wherein the decor panel has a deformable plaster mass which can be shaped and left to solidify.
