Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1731340A1] The device has a frame, where a layer structure from radiator units is provided in the frame. The layer structure is provided between arranged heat producing units (16) that include positive temperature coefficient (PTC)-heating units (18) that are arranged between parallel contact strips (20). A place holder unit (28) is accommodated in the frame and is integrated as a separate component in the layer structure.
