Abstract (en)

The clip has a branch (1) comprising an end forming a semi-arc (7) of a circle and another branch (2) comprising an end forming a quarter arc (6) of the circle. The branches are articulated around the same axis, and teeth are provided at the end of the branch (1). The quarter arc of the circle follows an extension (5), which is directed along a tangent of an end point of the quarter arc of the circle. A metallic layer is provided on the internal sides of the branches and permits preheating of the clip. An independent claim is also included for a clip preheating system.
