Abstract (en)
The assembly has a closing cover (3) associated to a holder (2), containing a lipstick, by complementary fixing and releasing units which are constituted of a hollow piston (4). The piston comprises a bore in which is received and hooked an end of the holder by removable fixing units. The piston has a locking and unlocking mechanism arranged between the piston and the cover and acting in one of two directions by an axial thrust exerted simultaneously on the cover and an apparent surface (6a) of a base (6) of the holder, where the base is in contact with the piston.
