Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2005105583A1] In order to produce (cigarette) packets with an outer covering made of film and a print carrier or coupon (19) placed between the packaging (10) and the outer covering, said print carrier is placed on a web of material (18) for the production of blanks (17) for the outer covering in the region of a drive or pull roller (50) for continuous conveyance of the web of material (18). The blanks (17) are then separated from the web of material (18), along with the coupon (18).
