Abstract (en)

The liner (15) has a fitting tongue (14) and two upper tongues (11, 11') comprising Velcro type hooking parts on the inner sides of the tongues. The hooking parts are crossed between them to cooperate with another set of Velcro type hooking parts placed on lateral parts of the liner, in order to close the liner and cover the fitting tongue in a symmetrical manner. Independent claims are also included for the following: (1) a ski boot liner fabricating method (2) a ski boot comprising a liner.
