Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2005105475A1] The invention relates to a sheeting that is to be transferred to a target substrate as well as methods for producing such sheeting. According to the inventive method, a plastic support film (32) is provided that is suitable for orienting crystalline liquid material. A layer (34) of crystalline liquid material that is oriented is partially applied to the support film (32).
