Abstract (en)

[origin: DE202005012160U1] The piece has a table top (3) arranged on rails, and a folding component (4) attached to the table top both in a closed condition as well as in an open condition. The folding component has a pivoting section (5) and a folding plate (6), where the plate and the section are detachably connected with one another using connecting components. The plate has a drill-hole, in which a bolt finger of the section is inserted.
