Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1750052A1] The system has a set of operation lights (1-3) with respective controller (1c-3c), where the controllers control the lights. The controllers are connected with each other by data lines (1d-3d), such that a data exchange is provided between the controllers. A central controller (4) is provided for the individual controllers. An operating unit for the controllers is arranged at a light body or a support arm or a wall of an operation theater.
