Abstract (en)

The label has an electromagnetically readable code (5) and another code, which is an optically detectable code (4) or an electromagnetically detectable code, where the codes are arranged on a common carrier (3). The optically detectable code is identified from a front side of the carrier, and the readable code is arranged in a rear side of the carrier. The detectable code is non-destructive read and/or converted. Independent claims are also included for the following: (1) a method for utilizing a deposit label (2) a delivery station for utilization for a deposit object (3) a control electronics for a delivery station.
