Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2005083641A1] The invention relates to a stamp (1) having a defined variable and assignable value which is, however, devoid of a readable value indication. Said stamp comprises a support layer provided with a machine readable individualisation code, in particular a customer identity code (2) and/or a transaction code (3) which is applied to said layer or integrated therein. A method for carrying out a paid postal delivery is also disclosed.
