Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1760220A1] A roof window frame (1) having top, bottom and side parts surrounding an opening, which side parts are made up as a sandwich construction comprising a first insulating member (4) secured to a first supporting member (3) on a side opposite the opening. To provide a frame having improved insulating properties, the first supporting member (3) is secured to a second supporting member (5) along a substantial length of the parts.
