Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1764025A1] The wiping plate comprises two plates which are pivotable about different shafts. The first plate has a latching device for detachably latching the first plate to the second shaft. The two shafts are arranged on a common holding member. The second plate preferably has a second latching device for latching the second plate to the first shaft. Independent claims are included for a cleaning device, and for a cleaning system.
