Abstract (en)

The back pack consists of a carrier (1) with adjustable padded shoulder straps (2) and a waist band with non-stretch (4) and stretch (5, 6) sections. The waist band sections extend from the carrier round to the front of the wearer and are joined by zones of hook and loop fabric, with miniature loops on the non-stretch section and hooks on the stretch sections, which overlap one another. The carrier can be pre-moulded or have fold lines to give it the required shape when worn, and it has a compartment (10) for the tool's power feed. An additional waist band (9) can carry a tool pouch.
