Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2006018585A1] The invention relates to a system and method for controlling technical elements (2x) operating at home and/or at work (3) and for transmitting activating and/or adjusting signals (5) to a control system (1). For this purpose, a training unit (10) operating in a transparent manner for a user who activates or adjusts said technical elements (2x) is used. Said training unit manages the definition and triggering of actions (11) for controlling the technical elements (2x).
