Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2006015759A1] The inventive cloth cleaning system comprises a container (3) for containing a liquid (35) and defining a reference filling level and a pressing device (1) associated with said container. Said cleaning device is characterised in that the pressing device (1) comprises a handle (23) which is positioned in such a way that it is arranged along a vertical line above a center of gravity (33) which is common for the cleaning system and the liquid when the container (3) is filled to the reference level.
