Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1776899A1] The excerpt has supporting bases (10) that form a four-joint with a support at two-guides, where articles are provided in the bases. The bases are respectively formed at two handles in such a manner that the bases are rotated completely through a door opening from a corner cupboard with pivot-rotatable movement. The guides are rigidly connected with each other. The bases have a form of two connected circular sections. An independent claim is also included for a corner cupboard with a rotatable excerpt.
