Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1777180A2] Fitted with a clearance from each other, two stands (18) have retaining devices (22) for end sections on a bearing core rod (16) that connects with a sleeve-shaped roller core (12) and supports flanged wheels (32), which have a diameter greater than the diameter of the bearing core rod and fix the sleeve-shaped roller core's axial position on the bearing core rod. An independent claim is also included for a printer with a mounting device for a printing carrier roll, especially a paper roll.
