Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1780835A2] The contact has a contact unit (2) with a contact support section connected with a connecting section (5) as a single piece for contacting a two-way contact. A support unit has front and rear ends along a longitudinal axis and projections (18, 23) provided close to front and rear ends (16, 17). The projections are formed on walls (13, 14) in a chipless manner such that they protrude from the longitudinal axis away from respective wall.
