Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1783082A2] The method involves unwinding of thread (30), which is to be unwound by the color spools (4), over a defined length with a winding speed. The winding speed lies below the winding speed provided for the thread which is to be rewound. The unwinding is done at the beginning or at the end of the rewinding. An independent claim is included for the textile machine for manufacturing cross-wound spools.
