Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1783258A1] The embroidery module (1) is fixed to the baseplate of the sewing machine (27) and plugged in for power and command signals. There is a free cavity between the embroidery module and the front end of the free arm for the insertion of tubular workpieces round the free arm. The embroidery module can be docked on the sewing machine, with or without an embroidery frame carrier (13).
