Abstract (en)

Refrigerated display case for food products having a frame including a substantially cylindrical bush-like portion (10a) having a predetermined axis (X) and defining a displaying compartment (20), a first and a second port (25,26) associated with the bush (10a) to access the displaying compartment (20), and a door (30) having an arc-of-circle section arranged coaxially to the bush (10a) and rotatably guided around the axis (X) of the bush (10). The display case also comprises a guide (36,l) to move the door (30) from a first operative position wherein the door (30) closes the second port (26) and leaves the first port (25) open for a first access to the displaying compartment (20), to a second operative position wherein the door (30) closes the first port (25) and leaves the second port (26) open for a second access to the displaying compartment (20), and to a third operative position wherein the door (30) closes both the first (25) and the second port (26).
