Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1797931A1] The assembly has a ski (11) comprising an upper side (32) intended to receive a fixation device (12) that is provided for holding a shoe on the ski. The fixation device has an anchorage device comprising a locking unit that permits to plate the fixation device against the upper side. The anchorage device has a slide (70) transversally arranged at center of the ski and presenting a width lesser than the width of the ski.
