Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2006042671A1] According to the invention, the reinforcement of disc separators (1) in ring spinners against wear of the edges (3, 5) thereof hit by the ends of broken threads may be simplified, whereby said edges are protected by metal deflector bars (8) which may be clipped or otherwise easily fitted to the disc separators, or which may be exchanged upon wearing out or being damaged.
