Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1801033A1] The spacer (18) has an end comprising an integration unit for integrating with an integration unit of a skin (12) of a bumper face-bar, where the skin's integration unit is complementary to the integration unit in the end. Another end has a support unit supported on an element integrated with a skin of an adjacent bumper face-bar. A support zone cooperates with a support unit of another spacer by a locking mechanism.
