Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1801324A2] The device has a seat play provided between a handle (20) and a carrier (10), for moving the actuators toward each other. The actuators are evaluated by a sensor (40) and are directed to two different functions in a lock (30). The locking or unlocking of the lock is effected during a desired actuation. The lock is locked or unlocked during a play actuation of the handle in the one direction.
