Abstract (en)

[origin: DE102005062613B3] The door for a partition has a surround (1) and a door leaf (2) with the surround vertical profile (4) being hollow with an opening (11) in an area of one of the faces (9) and extending into the adjacent section of the surround inner face (10) to receive the hinge section (5) attached to the surround. The pivot tube (7) of the hinge is thus positioned flush with the respective face of the profile. The surround hinge section has a clamping plate (12) with fasteners through the wall of the profile inner face.
